Mrs. Debbie Beyer has undergone numerous operations, withstood treatments to each of her vital internal organs, and has had to endure sedation for weeks at a time. She has been transferred from one specialized medical facility to another, each time being placed in the hospital's Intensive Care Units. This has been done in an attempt to bring about a successful outcome to the persistent challenges she must still confront today. Throughout the months of her incredibly demanding illness, and the complex series of related conditions that have developed, her husband Lester has remained directly at Debbie's side.
